COURT SETS VALUE ON TREES

Decision That Will Be of Interest to Many Communities Throughout the Country.

In Salem, Mass., a resident sued the town gas light company for damages caused by the killing of five shade trees through the escape of gas from a leaky main. A verdict for $1,000 against the company was rendered—$200 a tree. The decision is said to have been awaited with a good deal of interest by surrounding towns, for tree killing from this cause is a common thing. It has happened many times in Indianapolis, according to report, though complaints have not been heard lately with the frequency that characterized them back in the days when natural gas was piped through the streets, hastily and no doubt often carelessly.

The killing of a thrifty, well-grown shade tree is usually a distinct loss to any property, commonly lowering its value. In view of the time required for the growth of such trees $200 is a moderate sum in the way of damages, and no amount of money, when it comes to that, can really recompense the owner of the trees. They have to him, especially if he planted and cared for them, a sentimental value that dollars cannot measure. They have added beauty to his home and he has counted them among his treasures. To a real tree lover, a beautiful tree, whether his own or not, seems almost to possess a personality of its own and to see it struggle for life and gradually die, brings real sorrow. It is to view a calamity.—Indianapolis Star.

SIMPLE FOUNTAIN FOR LAWN

Easily Constructed of Cheap Materials, and Adds Greatly to Attractiveness of Grounds.

This fountain has a double bowl or basin formed by placing a high-voltage insulator about 18 inches in diameter over a 1/2-inch pipe that is connected with the water-line.

attached an automobile-tire dust-cap, which is pierced with many holes about as small as the point of a pin. This cap fits down to the shoulder of the coupling.—Popular Science Monthly.

Advancement Everywhere.

The national agencies engaged in rural social work are reported as beginning to co-operate in their programs. The rural church is grappling with its peculiar problem in a dynamic manner. The rural home is being reconstructed in a new and encouraging way as a center of all social organization. Rural government and legislation are undergoing a far-reaching change. Country communities are thinking about country planning and art as integral parts of community life. Road building in country districts is proceeding with unprecedented rapidity, and the country life movement is on the verge of an international understanding.—Exchange.

Untactful.

Brown was the possessor of very large feet and a very bad cough. He entered a boot shop and the young assistant turned the shop upside down to find something to fit him. Brown had just tried on the fortieth pair when he started coughing.

"Nasty cough," said the assistant. "Yes," gasped Brown. "Doctor says I've got one foot in the grave." "I shouldn't worry," said the assistant. "You'll never get the other in; it's too big!"

Solved.

Uncle Eli had just passed his first night in a hotel and was still curious. "Son," he inquired of a bellhop, "what's that funny contraption out the window?" "That's the fire escape," replied the youth.

"By hickory! I wondered what made it so dad-blamed cold in here last night!"—American Legion Weekly.

Too Much to Expect.

Jud Tankins says he doesn't hope for a general drop in prices to equal the one that takes place when you come to sell a brand-new silver that you have run a couple of days.

The Monett State Bank For Safety and Service

The Monett State Bank is in business to serve its customers and to accommodate the general public, and to facilitate their banking problems.

We realize that it is very inconvenient for the business men and women of our community on Saturdays and paydays to stop in the middle of the afternoon to make up their deposits and get to the bank by the time the doors close at 4 p. m.,—and we also realize that its not good banking business to have our customers coming in at the back door or to have an agent soliciting business at night.

Therefore, for the greater convenience of the business men and women and for the accommodation of the Railroad employees, and the general public, this bank will remain open Saturday and payday nights until 9 p. m., beginning this coming Saturday night October 8th.
